Brain Renewal

Brain Renewal's assessments provide validated and highly reliable information which can help people understand themselves better, identify their symptoms better and through training optimise brain performance, developing them and becoming the best they can be.

Brain training at Brain Renewal develops people through unique neurofeedback training. We make use of cutting edge brain profile assessments that can be specifically designed per patient for their individual needs to achieve what is needed. With our unique technology we are able to write our own treatments to ensure we optimise the results and assist the patient with specific requests.
